(concluded from Saturday's issue.)

MR. DE LEVAL'S REPORT.

Miss Cavell's Demands at the Court Martial.

Mr. de Leval, after stating that a Mr.
Kirschner, of Brussels, had agreed to defend Miss Cavell, proceeded:

I therefore at once put myself in communication with Mr. Kirschner, who told me that Miss Cavell was prosecuted for having helped soldiers to cross the frontier. I asked him whether she had made any statement to him, and, to my surprise, found that the lawyers defending prisoners before the German Military Court were not allowed to see their clients before the trial, and were not shown any document of the prosecution. This, Mr.
Kirschner said, was in accordance with the German military law.

He added that the hearing of the trial of such cases was carried out very casually, and that, in his opinion, although it was not possible to see the client before the trial, in fact, the trial itself developed so carefully and so slowly, that it was generally possible to have a fair knowledge of all the facts and to present a good defence for the prisoner.
This would specially be the case for Miss Cavell, because the trial would be rather long, as she was prosecuted with 34 other prisoners.

I informed Mr. Kirschner of my intention to be present at the trial so as to watch the case. He immediately dissented me from taking such attitude, which he said would cause a great prejudice to the prisoner, because the German judges would resent it, and feel it almost as an affront if I was appearing to exercise a kind of supervision on the trial. He thought that if the Germans would admit my presence, which was very doubtful, it would in any case cause prejudice to Miss Cavell.

Mr. Kirschner assured me over and over again that the Military Court of Brussels was always perfectly fair, and that there was not the slightest danger of any miscarriage of justice. He promised that he would keep me posted on all the developments which the case would take, and would report to me the exact charges that were brought against Miss Cavell and the facts concerning her that would be disclosed at the trial so as to allow me to judge by myself about the merits of the case. He insisted that of course he would do all that was humanly possible to defend Miss Cavell to the best of his ability.

It is days before the trial took place.
Mr. Kirschner wrote me a few lines, saying that the trial would be on the next Thursday, Oct. 7. The Legation at once sent him on Oct. 5 a letter confirming in writing in the name of the Legation the arrangement that had been made between him and me. This letter was delivered to Mr. Kirschner by a messenger of the Legation.

TWO DAYS' TRIAL.

The trial took two days, ending Friday, the 8th.

On Saturday I was informed by an outsider that the trial had taken place, but that no judgment would be reached till a few days later.

Receiving no report from Mr. Kirschner,
I tried to find him, but failed. I then sent him a note on Sunday asking him to send his report to the Legation or call there on Monday morning at 8.30. At the same time I obtained from some other person present at the trial some information about what had occurred, and the following facts were disclosed to me:

DON'T FORGET after the show, Supper, and Light Refreshments.

MISS CAVELL'S LAST HOURS.

This morning Mr. Gahan, the English clergyman, called to see me, and told me that he had seen Miss Cavell in her cell yesterday night at ten o'clock, that she gave her the Holy Communion, and had found her admirably strong and calm. I asked Mr. Gahan whether she had made any remarks about anything concerning the legal side of her case, and whether the confession which she made before the trial and in court was in his opinion perfectly free and sincere. Mr. Gahan said that she told him she perfectly well knew what she had done, that according to the law of course she was guilty and had admitted her guilt, but that she was happy to die for her country.

(Signed) G. DE LEVAL.

In transmitting these reports to Dr.
Page on the 15th, Mr. Whitehead wrote:
"I know that you will understand without my telling you that we exhausted every possible effort to prevent the infliction of the death penalty, and that our failure has been felt by us as a very severe blow. I am convinced, however, that no step was neglected which could have had any effect."

SIR W. GIBSON'S COMMENT.

Sir Edward Grey's comments are added in the following document issued from the Foreign Office on Wednesday, the 20th inst.

The Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs presents his compliments to the United States Ambassador, and has the honour to acknowledge the receipt of his Excellency's note of the 18th inst. enclosing a copy of a dispatch from the United States Minister at Brussels respecting the execution of Miss Edith Cavell at that place.

Sir E. Grey is confident the news of the execution of this noble Englishwoman will be received with horror and disgust not only in the Allied States, but throughout the civilised world. Miss Cavell was not even charged with espionage, and the fact that she had turned ambassador of her country, and that she might have been regarded as a complete reason in itself for trusting her with leniency.

The attitude of the German authorities in, if possible, rendered worse by the irreconcilable attitude expressed by the officials of the German Civil Administration at Brussels to conceal the fact that evidence had been passed and would be carried out immediately.
These efforts were not prompted by the determination to carry out the sentence before the appeal from the finding of the court could be made, but by a desire to show in the discreet manner that the German authorities were well aware that the execution of the sentence was being carried out by the German authorities.

Further comment on their proceedings would be superfluous.

Sir Edward Grey also expresses the grateful thanks of the Government to Mr.
Whitehead and the Marquis de Villafra for their untiring efforts.

Lord Kitchener "has somewhat allayed the anxiety" aroused by the announcement referred to. His Lordship's mission doubtless was perfectly pacific but it is not likely to affect the course decided upon by the Entente Allies. If Greece does not declare her policy fully and without further subterfuge, Greece denies the statement recently made that she entered into a political Agreement with Bulgaria. This may be accepted as true in the absence of proof, but it is practically certain that Bulgaria would never have opposed Serbia had she not been absolutely convinced that Greece would not go to Serbia's aid. How was that knowledge obtained by Bulgaria? Not necessarily by direct Agreement, but certainly only because of Greece's sympathy with or direct co-operation in the machinations of the enemy.

It is by no means before time that the Greeks should realise the plight into which they are now placed by this policy of King Constantine and his advisers, who are chiefly political opponents of M. Venizelos. If the Greeks are wise they will compel their King and the present Government to join the Entente Allies, and thus preserve, before it is too late, the honour of Greece in this mighty upheaval.

HONGKONG, MONDAY, NOV. 22, 1915.

THE ALLIES AND GREECE.

THE position of affairs with regard to Greece is, according to the latest telegrams to hand, still the cause of not a little anxiety to the Entente Powers, owing to the uncertainty prevailing as to what Greece may or may not do. So far as can reasonably be gathered from what has already transpired these responsible for Greece's policy intend to do nothing—absolutely nothing. They believed and apparently still believe that none has the right to question their action in placing their Army on a footing of what is somewhat paradoxically termed "armed neutrality." The Allies' anxiety arises not so much from the fact that Greece is apparently neutral, as because of her previous actions, particularly her non-fulfilment of her treaty obligations with Bulgaria, and also because the attitude of King Constantine towards the policy of the Venizelists (representing, as they do, the majority of the Greek nation.) In a sentence; the fact that M. Venizelos, the generally recognised ablest statesman of Greece—who has consistently advocated active co-operation by Greece on the side of the Entente Powers—and who has, as already stated, a mandate from the majority of the Greeks with regard to what war policy they consider best in the interests of Greece, has been thwarted by the King is surely sufficient indication that the Entente Allies have good grounds for feeling anxious regarding the Greek's policy. The Entente Allies, however, are determined to remain in this condition no longer and have practically submitted an ultimatum to Greece to the effect that her army be demobilised forthwith or that Greece declares herself willing to co-operate with the Entente Allies.

The critical moment has therefore arrived when those responsible for the vacillation of Greece's recent policy must declare definitely what they intend to do. The Allies, as they have clearly pointed out to Greece, are prepared to carry out to the letter complete reprisals for any treachery that Greece might attempt towards Allied troops in the Balkans, and the British and French Mediterranean Fleets are at Malta ready to carry these reprisals into effect. M. Denys Cochin, the French statesman, arrived some days ago at Athens, and it may be assumed that in his interviews with King Constantine and the Greek statesmen he did not minimise the dangers that Greece had drifted into. One of the latest telegrams to hand from Athens states that the arrival

Mr Agassis defended. Complainant's case was that last Thursday night he went with a friend to the Sai On restaurant. Defendants left their table and went out. EUROPEAN WOMAN FINED.

At the Police Court this morning before Mr Lindell, Myrtle Nicholas, 33 Wyndham Street, was charged with being drunk and disorderly at the Canton Wharf last night.

His Worship—Your name is Myrtle Nicholas?

Defendant—No, Hatfield Ellis. That is the name I am known by.

His Worship—But you gave your name as Myrtle Nicholas at the Police Station.

Defendant—I did, yes. I was drunk. I was not disorderly though.

Detective-constable Vincent, in answer to the witness, said that before the defendant had gone on board during the early part of the evening. She had no pass to go to Canton and on being taken off by an officer nearly fell into the gangway.

Witness took her into custody for her own safety. He had received a lot of complaints about her going on these boats. She was a general nuisance down there altogether.

Giving evidence, witness said he was on the wharf last evening examining the police pass. He saw the officer of the ship taking defendant to the gangway. At the head of the gangway she fell down and was only just saved from going overboard. She said she wanted to go to the King Edward Hotel and he got a rickshaw and put her into it, but she gave a lot of trouble and he took her to the central Police Station. She was drunk and could not take care of herself. She swore at him.

Defendant—I admit being drunk but that was all. I am not drunk now.

His Worship—The constable says you used obscene language to him.

Defendant—I admit being drunk and I was going to the King Edward Hotel. If he had been a gentleman he would have let me go.

THE WAR.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

ANGLO-FRENCH VICTORY IN THE CAMEROONS.

LONDON, Nov. 21.

It is officially announced that an Anglo-French force occupied, on November 8, the town of Tibati, in the Cameroons, ninety miles south-west of Ngaoundere. The British occupied, on November 6, the summit of Banyo Mountain, to which the Germans had retreated after the capture of Banyo on October 24.

LATER.

The fighting for the Banyo Mountain was at close quarters throughout. The enemy used dynamite bombs which they had prepared with a view to holding the mountain until the end of the war. During a thunderstorm on the night of November 5 they broke and scattered. The pursuit continues.

The enemy garrison consisted of 23 Europeans and 200 rank and file. They lost one European killed, one wounded, while nine were captured. About thirty of the rank and file, along with a machine gun, stores and much material were captured.

Two British officers were killed and two wounded. A sergeant was killed and fifty men wounded.

The Deputy-Governor-General reports that the splendid exhibition of endurance and bravery of the Nigerian troops was a brilliant feat of which Nigeria should justly be proud.

ENEMY CLAIM OCCUPATION OF NOVI BAZAAR.

SERBIANS STILL CAPABLE OF TAKING THE OFFENSIVE.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 22, 1.20 a.m.

The German occupation of Novi Bazar is the feature of an Austrian communiqué.

It also describes fresh fierce Italian attacks at many points, especially on the Gorizza bridgehead. The Italians have penetrated the Austrian lines in the Oslava section, but the Austrians say they have re-captured all lost ground except one summit. The assertion that the Austro-Hungarians have repulsed a Serbian attack in the Ibar Valley, eastward of Novi Bazar, indicates that the Serbians are still capable of taking the offensive.

ACTION AGAINST A CHINESE PAPER.

A case in which the editor of the Shi Po, a Chinese paper published in Hongkong, is charged with publishing matter likely to cause sedition, was mentioned in Mr. Lind's court this afternoon. Mr. C. N. Orme, prosecuting, opposed bail saying the Governor particularly wished that bail should not be given.

Mr. W. B. Hind, appearing shortly afterwards for the defence, said bail must be granted. He understood Mr. Orme had objected but he had no jurisdiction, the alleged offence was a misdemeanour, and bail must be granted in all misdemeanours.

Later, Mr. Hind said he had seen Mr. Orme who had told him that so far as this case was concerned he left the question of bail in his Worship's hands, but pointed out that it could not affect the deportation proceedings which were also going on.

His Worship.—Under the Deportation Ordinance I think the Magistrate is entitled to give bail.

Mr. Hind.—Under the Deportation Ordinance the Magistrate has no power at all. He does not come before the Magistrate.

His Worship.—But what good will this do him?

Mr. Hind intimated that it might affect his case later on.

His Worship.—He will still be held under the Deportation Ordinance, and you will have to make another application under that.

Mr. Hind.—I think that has to be made to the Supreme Court.

The Magistrate remarked that there had been many such applications to the Police Court.

Mr. Hind.—I have been going carefully into the matter and I think it must be made to the Supreme Court. He is entitled to bail and I want him to have it.

Mr. Lindell, remarking that the proceeding was purely formal, as defendant would still be held under the Extradition Ordinance, ordered the man to be brought back, but was informed that he was already back in the goal.

Later the man was brought up again.

His Worship.—It is curious that the Ordinance only speaks of this crime as an offence.

Mr. Hind.—Every indictable offence is a misdemeanour unless it is made a felony.

The Magistrate said he thought the bail should be substantial.

Mr. Hind.—But why, your Worship? There is always the other charge.

Chief Detective Inspector Morrison said he was instructed to ask for bail of $10,000.

Mr. Hind.—They always ask ten times as much as anybody else if the charge is brought by a Government department. You have not got to consider an application on behalf of the Government as of any greater weight than one by a private prosecutor. What has to weigh in your Worship's mind is the seriousness of the offence and the likelihood of the prisoner to run away. Bail was granted on $3,000.

SEQUEL TO EXTRADITION.
PROCEEDINGS.

Counsel went on to say the defence had brought forward specific evidence as to the book and he submitted that the entry which referred to the cook's coffin was a bogus one.

The Chief Justice: The onus is on you as regards one portion of the case—the political case.

Counsel: And in so much as the political case depends upon the entry in the coffin book the onus is shifted and there is no answer to our case at all.

Mr. Potter pointed out that the Crown's photograph contained two characters more, the interpretation of which no one knew. They had been placed there by some one after Mr. Hind, for the fugitive, photographed the page. If ever it had been proved that a book had been faked it had been done in that case, contended Counsel.

Later, the Chief Justice commented on the marking of the documents, which, he said, was unsatisfactory. It was called No. III.

Counsel: We have everything my Lord, three I's and three X's (laughter).

Dealing with the plan, which was made by the police at Santo-chuk, Counsel said that the men who were in charge, of Inspector Watt, misled him everywhere.

The Chief Justice asked why they did not dig up the coffin. They might have found a dog.

Mr. Potter said Chinese were ever precluded from exhuming a body. If they had dug they would probably have found that the bones had been consumed. Some burying grounds, he believed, had that faculty, and in others the bodies lived for ever.

Counsel went on to deal with the numerous photographs submitted at the Police Court proceedings. Dealing with the photograph of a notice of the order of a coffin, Counsel said that Inspector Watt found the notice in an entirely different place to what the defence did. It would have been childlike for Inspector Watt to have said he saw the entry in the coffin book because the production of the book would have contradicted him. Therefore he could only say he had made a mistake. There was not a witness, commented Counsel, from the Tung Lee coffin shop which could wipe out the evidence of Mr. Melby who was very definite upon the point in his evidence for the defence. Counsel's submission to the court was that the evidence of Inspector Watt and the Chinese detective in no way refuted the evidence of Mr. Melby. It was not a case where the witness had been misled. There was no possibility of his being misled and on the evidence there was no possibility of a mistake. Mr. Melby's evidence was definite, positive and clear that the coffin book was not in the condition it was when he examined it. The page was in an entirely different position and he was convinced that the page on which the Crown relied was not there. Counsel had no doubt that Inspector Watt had told them what he literally believed to be true. No Crown, said Counsel, would listen to the suggestion that the page was not in the book.

"It is all part and parcel of a pretence to get hold of this man" said Counsel. (Case proceeding.)

THE DOCKS AT ABERDEEN.

The Aberdeen docks of the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Company have experienced an unusual spell of activity during the last few days owing to the large number of vessels entering the port to dock. For some months past the Aberdeen docks have been carefully employed on various occasions to prevent congestion at the Company's principal docks.

THE ENTENTE ALLIES AND GREECE.

LORD KITCHENER VISITS KING CONSTANTINE.

THE LATEST DEVELOPMENTS.

ANOTHER ZEPPELIN DESTROYED.

LATEST NEWS FROM THE WEST AND EAST FRONTS.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

THE ENTENTE ALLIES AND GREECE.

ATHENS, Nov. 21.
Lord Kitchener arrived and visited the King with the British Minister (Sir Francis Elliot).
The audience lasted upwards of an hour.
Afterwards his Lordship called upon M. Skouloudis, the Premier.
Lord Kitchener leaves Athens this evening.

GREECE AND THE BRITISH ANNOUNCEMENT.

LATER.
Lord Kitchener's arrival, says another telegram from Athens, has somewhat allayed the anxiety aroused by the British announcement that the Allies are determined to exercise pressure upon Greece, owing to her attitude in the eventuality of the Allies entering into Greek territory.

BLOCKADE OF GREECE DECLARED.

According to the newspapers, the Entente Powers have declared an economic and commercial blockade of Greece.

A DENIAL.

LONDON, Nov. 21.
The Greek Legation has been instructed from Athens to deny formally the conclusion of a political Greco-Bulgarian Agreement. The only act concluded, the Greeks state, is a technical protocol of October 20, signed by representatives of the Greco-Bulgarian railways providing the purchase in Bulgaria of 10,000 tons of cereals and the employment of 40 Bulgarian wagons for their transport. The Protocol contains no other clause.

ZEPPELIN DESTROYED ON HER FIRST TRIP.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 21.
A Zeppelin was destroyed while being inflated near the town of Tonder on Wednesday. There were nine casualties.
The Zeppelin had just arrived and had been inflated in an unfinished shed. German soldiers were pumping gas when there was an explosion which set fire to the Zeppelin. The roof of the shed was destroyed and a man blown off and killed, while he was directing the pump. Others were wounded.
The Zeppelin was larger than its predecessor in the same shed.

LATER.
The Zeppelin, which was the Z-19, had made only one trip, to the Island of Sylt, just before she was destroyed.
Marines, who were assisting the workmen in completing the roof of the shed, were smoking cigars, despite the most stringent regulations.
A marine dropped a lighted cigar on the top of the Zeppelin, which immediately exploded.

MORE ITALIAN SUCCESSES.

LONDON, Nov. 21.
A Rome communique says that the battle on the Isonzo front has continued vigorously. The Italians stormed the defence works of the Fondo Valley successfully and opened an attack on the heights of north-east Ostavia, near Gorizia, and gained a firm footing on the crest of Mount San Michele in Carso. Violent enemy counter-attacks were repulsed with heavy loss. An attempt of the Austrians to recapture the summit of Colidiana in Cordevole ended disastrously; the enemy fleeing in disorder and abandoning arms.

GERMANS SUFFER ANOTHER REVERSE IN BALTIC PROVINCES.

RETROGRAD, Nov. 21.
The Germans have had another reverse in the Baltic Provinces. A communique says that after violent artillery fire at several points in the Riga region the enemy were compelled to fall back westward of Dvinsk abandoning arms, ammunition and unburied dead. The Germans were also defeated on the Skyr. The Russians re-occupied Czartorysk and have captured an important village.

ITALY AND THE WAR.

PARIS, Nov. 21.
It is stated in Rome that Italy has signed an agreement with the Allies not to conclude a separate peace.

PALERMO, Nov. 21.
The visit of Signor Salandro, the Premier, and Signor Orlando, Minister of Justice, led to tremendous patriotic demonstrations and orations and shouts of "Long live the saviour of Italy."
Signor Orlando, in his speech, said the reason why Italy joined in the war at an unfavourable moment was that if they had not joined they would have signed their own death warrant. He referred scathingly to Austria's disloyalty and Germany's mad pride. Italy was impelled to the side of the nations fighting for the right to live. Italian solidarity with the Allies was absolutely essential. Isolated victory and isolated peace were impossible. The proper formula was "All one and one All."
Not only ethical but practical considerations made this imperative.
Signor Orlando compared the Pope's position in previous wars with the present as to the preservation of all his rights, liberty, security and prestige as a Sovereign in the spiritual sphere. Italy, he concluded, had engaged the enemy in a recognized order of war, but inexcusable crimes and the sinking of innocent ships had brought hate and vengeance into their fight, which would be waged to the last drop of blood and the last centesimo.

WESTERN FRONT.

PARIS, Nov. 21, 4.5 p.m.
A communique states that there is nothing to report.

FRENCH ARTILLERY CONTINUED EFFECTIVELY.

LONDON, Nov. 21.

NEW ARMY'S BRILLIANT WORK AT LOOS.

LONDON, Nov. 20.
Reuter's correspondent at Headquarters dwells on the work of the New Army and the Territorial Force, which has hitherto not been described in detail. He especially deals with the work of the 15th Scottish and the 47th (London) Territorial Divisions, and says that the former's initial charge over Hill 70 at tremendous speed will always be remembered as one of the great feats of the war. They took their objectives, and held them for three days against all attacks. As regards the Londoners, he says that the French on our extreme left, watching and cheering the Londoners as they advanced, saw a man kicking a ball ahead of the others. They thought he had gone mad, but it was a London Irishman dribbling a football towards his goal. He held the ball for 1,400 yards.

MINISTERIAL VISIT TO PARIS.

LONDON, Nov. 20.
Mr. Asquith interviewed His Majesty the King to-day to report on the Ministerial visit to Paris.

BRITISH MUNITIONS OUTPUT.

Excellent Results.

LONDON, Nov. 21.
Lord Murray, in the course of an interview, said that ships, guns, armour, rifles and bullets were pouring out of the factories in an unending stream, which would increase steadily until Germany was over-whelmed by her own weapons. A million women and men were working in countless factories, whose rapid construction and extension constituted an engineering record. For instance, there are 500 munitions works in Leeds compared with none at the beginning of the war. Elsewhere in England, one armament firm is employing 60,000 workers compared with a negligible fraction thereof before the war. A new factory in Scotland, covering 200 acres, with eleven miles of trolley lines, and twenty-two miles of heating pipes to warm the building, was only begun to be erected six weeks ago. Lord Murray added that he was greatly impressed with the indomitable spirit and energy of the workers, and particularly the enthusiasm of the women, which was another feature, and with the number of the most able engineers who were directing the work unaided.

ARTILLERY AND GRENADE DUELS.

PARIS, Nov. 20.

To-day's communique says that during the night there were only artillery and grenade duels at isolated points in Artois, Argonne, and Lorraine.

MERCHANT SHIPS' OFFICERS AND ENLISTMENT.

LONDON, Nov. 20.

Certificated officers of merchant ships are exempted from enlistment owing to the paramount importance of maintaining British shipping.

SOUTH-AFRICA'S RESPONSE.

CAPETOWN, Nov. 20.

Lord Buxton (Governor-General of South Africa), opening the House of Parliament, announced that there had been a most gratifying response to the call for volunteers for service outside the Union, which would defray part of the cost of the campaign.

POLITICAL CRISIS IN PORTUGAL.

Cabinet Resigns.

LISBOA, Nov. 20.

The political crisis that has been simmering for some time culminated in the Cabinet resigning. Sen. da Costa for a fortnight vainly sought a solution of the difficulties.

INDIA AND THE WAR.

The "Real Attitude."

LONDON, Nov. 20.

As an example of the real attitude of India towards the war, The Times mentions that it has lately repeatedly received long communications from eminent and responsible Indians, whose right to act as spokesmen is unquestioned, begging it to urge the Government to raise new and larger Indian Armies to fight for the Allied cause.

RESTORATION OF FRIENDLY RELATIONS.

LONDON, Nov. 20.

According to Reuter's Petrograd correspondent the Russian Government has telegraphed throughout the country announcing to the people and the clergy the decision of the Shah not to leave the capital, owing to the restoration of sincere and friendly relations with Russia. The Government asks the populace to act in a manner friendly to the Allies.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

THE RECRUITING QUESTION.

Lord Derby's Scheme.

A Negligible Minority.

LONDON, Nov. 10.
Correspondence between Lord Derby and Mr. Asquith is published in which the position of the married men who have enlisted under Lord Derby's scheme is defined thus. Mr. Asquith concurring:
Unmarried men shall be called up first. If, apart from munition makers, etc., and others exempted by local tribunals there still remains a considerable number of young men not joining voluntarily, then either the married men shall be released from their pledge, or Parliament shall pass a Bill compelling young men to serve; if Parliament refuses the married men shall be released automatically.
Lord Derby hopes, however, that the young men not enlisting will be in a negligible minority, thus there would be no question of legislation.

MORE GERMAN LIES.

Official British Denials.

LONDON, Nov. 19.
Reuter is informed that there is absolutely no truth in the statement appearing in the German press to the effect that Britain has informed Russia that she is withdrawing from the Dardanelles. The Secretary of State for India announces that there is not a word of truth from beginning to end in the whole series of reports published in the German press and in neutral countries of grave disorders in India.
